

THE CRACKS ARE SHOWING.

"Do you know how old I am, Dr. Brahe? I am 222 years old, a fork of an individual who is...who would be 259 years old. I am no longer the True Name of 2124. Even remembering her feels like remembering an old friend..."

Someone picked up on the broadcast from the Dreamer Module and as the powers that be rush to organize a meeting between races, Dr. Tycho Brahe is caught up in a whirlwind of activity. And as always, when the drama goes down, there is Codrin Bălan to witness it. When faced with eternity in a new kind of digital world, however, old traumas come to roost, and those who were once powerful are brought to their knees.

Growth is colliding with memory, and the cracks are showing.
